Styline Kettle: A Real Winner!

BOSCH'S beautiful Styline kettle has picked up its first accolade, one of the most coveted of all, a Which? Best Buy award – to become the highest scoring kettle on the Which? website.

The magazine's independent testers put big tick marks against its ultra-fast boiling speed and energy efficiency, its gorgeous looks and innovative multi-temperature features.

Unlike ordinary kettles, the Bosch Styline has four temperature settings, because different hot drinks prefer different temperatures to release their perfect aroma and taste. The Bosch Styline can be set to boil, or to reach 70, 80 or 90 degrees C — perfect for delicate teas or exotic coffees. There is even a keep-warm mode that means water reboils quickly if someone is late for breakfast!

The Which? testers found the Styline boiled in a jiffy — serving up a litre of water (four cups worth) in under 2min 30sec, and switching itself off rapidly, thus saving energy.

This kettle's distinctive, eco-friendly design can save up to 66% of typical kettle energy requirements by boiling as little water as a cupful of water: minimum fill is a mere 250cc.

The kettle base houses an information rich, easy-to-use control panel with the power on/off switch and temperature settings: an LED screen shows the water temperature as it rises.

Which? says Styline's advantages are its "very quick" boil speed, its temperature selection, excellent energy efficiency, excellent limescale filter, ease of filling, build quality and the audible boiling alert.

This breakfast set is available in stylish white or black with brushed stainless steel trim.
